MISS POLLARD'S PLANS

She Has Made No Definite Arrangements for the Future.

WILL NOT BECOME AN ACTRESS.

Flattering Offers from Theatrical Managers Will Receive No Attention from Breekinridge's Victim, Who Received a Verdict for l'ifteen Thousand Dollars.

Washington, April 16.—The jury in the Pollard-Breckinridge breach of promise suit, after a deliberation of an hour and a half, brought in a verdict for Mi-s Pol-lard and awarded her damages of $15,000 late Saturday afternoon. The amount of damages was decided by the usual method of striking an average of the twelve individual estimates Several of the jurymen were in favor of awarding Miss Pollard no. damages at all, only a verdict. There were others who estimated the damage to her life and opportunities at the full limit claimed, $36,000.

The scene in the court when the verdict was rendered was one not to be forgotten. Miss Pollard was not there, nor was her doughty champion, ex-Judge Wilson. Calderon Carlisle, alone of all her counsel, sat in his accustomed place.

Every one thought the case would go over until Monday for a decision, and that was why Mr. Wilson and the majority of the lawyers on both sides were not present when the verdict was rendered.

The jury, however, agreed unexpectedly early and there was a great flocking to the court room. Colonel Breckinridge was the first of the principal actors in the logal drama to appear. He came in with a flushed face and an expectant and carnest manner. He was followed closely by his son Desha and by Colonel Thompson. Colonel Breckinridge took the blow with marvellous composure. He did not change his easy posture by a hair's breadth. He only clasped his hands the closer and grew redder behind his white hair and beard. He did not even turn his head. Neither did his counsel change countenance or make the slightest demonstration.

Mr. Carlisle's face alone underwent a decided change. He did not shift his position or show his emotions by any gesture or action, but his serious face broke out into a broad smile, which, however, he repressed before he turned about in his

Then Colonel Breckinridge struggled to his feet. He leaned both hands on the desk before him and addressed the judge. His bearing was self possessed and his voice clear. He said:

"When, your honor, will opportunity be afforded me to make a motion for a new trial?"

"On Monday or thereafter," replied Judge Bradley, Then the judge turned to the jury and said it was perfectly evident that they had He discharged them and adjourned the

Miss Madeline Pollard is the most talked of person in Washington today, since the outcome of her long breach of promise anit agniust Congressman Breckinridge. As might have been expected with a woman of her temperament, the long strain of the trial culminated in a nervous collapse, and today Miss Pollard is suffering from pervous prostration. She was taken Saturday might to the Providence hospital, a Catholic institution in a quiet ; part of the city, where she is attended by the sisters of charity. The attending physicians ay that when she has recovered from the immediate effects of her collapse following the high mental tension at which she has been kept for weeks she will be able to leave the hospital. They do not anticipate any serious effects from her illness.

Sister Ellis, of the Episcopal House of Refuge, who was the constant attendant of Miss Pollard during the trial, and to whom Judge Wilson paid a beautiful tribute in his plea, was her companion part of the day. Her brother, Mr. J. D. Pollard, of Lexington, Ky., was also with her.

The victor in the great case has been more than ever in demand to appear before the footlights since the verdict was secured. During the trial several communications came to Miss Pollard and to her lawyers from managers of theatrical and opera companies, offering high salaries if she would appear in almost any capacity under their auspices. Acting under the advice of her lawyers she has paid no attention to any of these communications.

Both Miss Pollard and her attorneys state that she has never sought newspaper notoricty. She has made but one newspaper statement, Judge Jere Wilson said, and that was when a representative of a New York paper came to her last summer with elippings from a hundred papers giving denials from Colonel Breckinridge and his friends of the truth of her charges. Then she determined to present to the public a circumstantial account of ber first acquaintance with the silver tongued orntor.

Since the verdict was rendered the theatrical managers have redoubled their importunities and several telegrams have come to Miss Pollard offering her astonishing sums to go upon the singe at once. Its a true nerve tonic. It soothes and Her friends decline to give the names of the theatrical managers or to discuss their offers, saying that no attention will be paid to any of them.

An Associated Press representative called at the Providence hospital, and being told that Miss Pollard was unable to receive callers, sent to her a note inquiring about her plans for the future. The note was answered in person by her brother, Mr. J. D. Pollard, a young man of about 25 years.

"My sister has made no plans for the future," he said. "and we cannot tell yet what she intends to do. She is in a very nervou-condition, but the physicians do not at tierpate any serious illness. It is just the result of the long strain to which she has been subjected. She asks me to say to you, most emphatically, that she never has intertained any intention of going on the stage. Nothing could be farther from her thoughts or intentions. It | is absurd. It is true that telegrams on the subject have come to her, but no attention will be paid to them. All sheasks now is for rest and quiet."

"Will Miss Pollard continue to live in Washington or return to Kentucky?" the reporter inquired.

"That has not been decided yet," wa the reply. "She will remain in Washington for a time, of course, but has no settled plans."

Judge Jere Wil-on said today that he was not surprised that his client had broken down after the trial.

"It would have been impossible to have sustained her-elf in the court room during the arguments, especially during the attacks made upon her contracter by the de-fendant's attorneys " he said, "No one can imagine the nervous strain to which she has been subjected."

TO PURITY MANHOOD.

Prominent Washington Women Demand

That Breckinnidge be investigated. WASHINGTON, April 16 .- Hardly had the verdict in the Pollard-Brackinridge case been rendered when a meeting of prominent Washington women was called to take action regarding the case of Colonel Breckinridge. Representive, of several female organizations met at Willard's botel, and after an interesting conference adopted re-olutions calling upon congress to consider the qualifications of Representative Breckinridge for membership in that body.

The resolutions adopted declare tha "we do not believe masculinity to be a license for uncleanness," and demand "chastity for chastity, under one rule of right, bearing as rigidly in its application upon one sex as the other." The resolu-tions have been sent to the house committee on the judiciary for action. The women say that it is not right that Colonel Breckturidge should retain his seat in congress. while Miss Pollard is ostrucized, as she undoubtedly will be, from society.

This meeting was the last of a series which prominent women of Washington have been holding since Good Friday, and which crystalized into the formation of an organization called the Woman's Protective league. The object of the league will be to combat the text uttered on the witness stand by Colonel Breckinridge that social sins injure a man, but destroy a women. The lengue will endeavor to secure equal rights for both sexes, and to ald women who have been wronged. It is, of course, an outgrowth of the Pollard-Breckinridge trial. The ladies have invited Judge Jere Wilson to become general counsel of the league, but the attorney has not yet responded to the invita-

"She has a young brother in Wushington," said Mrs. Brown to a reporter, "and it is her wish to live modestly in a flat or a little house with her brother and write, and her offers in this line have been as good, accordingly, as the other ones. I would tell you just what that line of writing is, but I am not at liberty to do so She will carry out her one life ambition, the ambition which lay so close to her young heart at the time she first met Breckmridge.

The Great Northern Strike.

Sr. Patt., Minn., April 16.-The strike on the Great Northern railway is gradually working cast, having taken in Grand Forks, N. D. and if not settled soon will probably reach this end of the line in about two or three days. It is developing a peculiar state of affairs. The strike was ordered by the American Railway union. and is now being more actively antagonized by the railroad employes' brotherhoods than by the railroad company itself. There can be no doubt that the individuals of the various brotherhoods are privately somewhat dissatisfied, but they recently accepted the revised schedules and are standing by their agreement with the company. The whole system is now tied up from Minot to Seattle and from Seattle to New Westminster. Hardly a wheel is turning or a telegraph instrument tick

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS

The Fight Over the Quorum Counting Rule the Principal Business.

Washington, April 16.-The struggle over the adoption of the new quorum counting rate decided upon by the Demo-oratic cancus hast Friday will be the feature of the present week in the house. Inasmuch as about one-third of the Democrats are violently opposed to any quorum counting rule, as indicated by the vote in the caucus, it will be impossible for the Democrats alone to adopt such a rule. The Republicana will, however, acquiesce in the adoption of any rule that contains the essential principle of recording as "present but not voting" those members who decline to respect to their names. This is the parliamentary principle which Mr. Reed has been contesting ever since the end of the l'ifty-first congress. It must be embedied in any new rule submitted to the house or it cannot be adopted. It is expected when the rule is presented Mr Reed will make one of the greatest speeches of Lis life Owing to the death of Senator Vance both houses adjourned today, and the fight over the new rule in the house is postponed until tomorrow.

It is probable that but little time will be allowed for debate, and the chances are that when the house adjourns tomorrow evening the quorum counting rule will have been adopted and fillbustering of the kind which has characterized the proceedings of the house for the past three years will be a thing of the past.

The resolution adopted by the caucus instructing the sergeant-at-arms to enforce Section 40 of the revised starutes, deducting the salary of absent members, save on account of sickness, it is believed, will have the effect of securing a very full attendance in the house hereafter. As soon as the new order of things has been inaugurated in the house the consideration of the appropriation bills will be resumed and will consume the remainder of

With the exception of the Chinese treaty which is to be considered tomorrow, and the routine morning business of each day, the week in the senate promises nothing but a continuation of tariff debate.

THE WILD BEAST CONTEST.

Efforts to Prevent the Fight Between Lion and a Grizzly Bear.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—The fight announced to take place in Boone's arena at the Midwinter fair next Saturday evening between Colonel Boone's African lion Parnell and a grizzly bear recently captured in the mountains has stirred up serious trouble between the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the executive committee of the exposition. The society announces that the fight cannot come off, and if it is necessary warrants will be sworn out for the arrest of the executive committee, not stopping at Director General De Young, in order to prevent the contest.

Preparations for the straggle continue. Nearly all of the seats are said to have been sold at prices ranging from $10 to $20 each, and tickets will probably be at a premium when the fight begins.

Parnell is one of Colonel Boone's performing lions, but recently has become so feroclous that he is kent confined in a special cage, and in his physical appear ance is perfect. The grizziy bear is a fine specimen, fresh from the mountains, and weighs 150 counds more than the lion,

Two Prisoners Escape.

HACKENSACK, N. He will from escaping by Sheriff Bogart after a desperate struggle. All three were under sentence of long terms in the state prison at Trenton. Two of them were horse thieves and the other had been convicted of robbing school houses in Bergen county. When Sheriff Bogart entered the corridor to give the prisoners their breakfast he was struck on the head by Dukus. The sheriff seized Dukus, and after a desperate struggle assistance arrived and the prisoner was overpowered. Meantime the other two had escaped.

Brazilian Insurgent Losses. MONTEVIDEO, April 16.-The commander of the gunboat Beagle telegraphs that the Brazilian in-urgents lost in the attack on the city of Rio Grande do Sul 330 men killed or wounded. The government loss was 100 Nine hundred insurgents subsequently landed on Uraguasan territory. They were not armed, but were under command of General Salgada, who had withdrawn these men from the insurgent forces in consequence of his not being in accord with the plans of Admiral de Mello. The insurgent squadron has gone to Paranagua.

CHEERED BY WAITING THOUSANDS.

The Coxey Commonwealers in Maryland. "Unknown Smith" Ruled Out by Coxey. and Browne Still Chief Marshal-Coxey's Son Deserts His Father's Standard.

OMAHA, Neb., April 16.-General Kelly and bis 1,200 troops spent a heautiful Sab-bath in the enjoyment of more of luxury than they have known since they left home more than two weeks ago. army reached the confines of Omaha shortly after 6 o'clock. The train was halted at a side track just inside the city limits. Calef Seavy was there with two plateons of police

It had been the intention to disembark the army there and have breakfast in the woods. The authorities provided 2,500 loaves of bread and 2,000 pounds of cooked beef, while a bu-iness firm had given 1,000 pies. All this provender was in two box cars, which were quickly attached to the Kelly train, and then the procession moved on. Chief Seavy had asked General Keily to keep his men on the cars, and they had been kept there. Two or three thousand people had gathered there, and many crossed to Council Bluffs with the train.

At the Union Pacific transfer yards in Council Bluffs there was a crowd of 7,000 or $,000 people. Seven companies of militia were drawn up in line. When the train pulled in a great cheer went up. Both the citizens and the Keilyites joined in making the depot sheds rattle with their yells, while the militia boys looked rather shamefacedly at each other as if they wondered why they were there. In a moment the blankers and baggage were tumbled out of the cars in which the army has traveled the last six days, and a camp was pitched on the ground about one hundred yards from the depot.

After breakfast there began a reception which lasted well into the evening. Fully 50,000 people visited the camp and mingled with the soldiers. Kelly's wonderful organization was never better shown. The discipline of the army is as perfect as that of well drilled regulars. Much of this is due to the personnel of the troops, who are mainly intelligent mechanics, with not a few professional men thrown in. During the afternoon a public meeting was held, at which General Kelly and a number of local labor leaders made speeches. Governor Jackson's action in calling out the militia has been criticized by the citizens rather harshly. Governor Jackson justifies his action by saying that he had received many velegrams asking for pro-tection, and had finally concluded the troops would be absolutely necessary to preserve order.

Many recruits joined the army here, one new company being formed. Contribuerally made. The Burlington and Quincy road will furnish a train from here.

BROWNE STILL IN COMMAND.

The Caknown Deserts Coxey's Commonweal, and "Jess" Goes with Him.

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 16.-Yesterday afternoon Marshal Carl Browne rode into Cumberland at the head of Coxey's Army of the Commonweal on the handsome stallion which has been his mount since leaving Massilon, U., Easter Sunday. Browne is again on top, the revolution of Saturday has been quelled and the "Ungo on a lecture tour. Mr. Coxey's son has deserted the cause of his father and goes with Smith.

It has been the frequent boast of Commander Coxes that the army was an organization in which mutual rights prevailed. "Neither Marshal Browns nor I have any more rights here than the poor-est soldier," has been asserted by him daily and reiterated by Browne, but the event of the bast two days show that Coxer's word is law. The men had deposed Browne and took up Smith, who had orgapized the army and established a system of discipline against which cold, starvation, privation and weary marches could not prevail. They made him their leader with great enthusiasm, but this was in Coxey's absence. Coxey arrived at daybreak. "Smith must go," he said, and Smith went.

Jesse Coxey, the general's son, tried to dissuade his father, telling him that Browne was a scoundrel and a crook who was working him. General Coxey would not believe it, and told his son he was insubordinate. He said he might, however, continue as aid to Marshal Browns if he desired. "I won't obey the orders of that leather conted skunk," was the son's re-"Then you may go back home," said his father. "I will go wherever I d-d please," was the reply, and the young man went oil.

Smith, before leaving, made a speech to the army, bidding them hold together, obey orders and march to Washington. They cheered him, and there is no doubt he could have carried the men with him had he so desired.

It is said on good authority that the "Unknown's" name, or at least the name he is known by, is E. P. Pizzaro; that he is a bwede and a patent medicine fakir, who last summer gave medical lectures on South Peoria street, Chicago.

When the army reached Camberland it camped in the ball grounds, and 1,500 people paid ten cents each to go in and see it. They will start from here tomorrow morning and go down the canal in tow bonts to Williamsport to avoid the mountains. Prominent entirens of Cumberland gave food to the army.

THE HOLOCAUST AT BUFFALO. It Is Now Believed That Twenty-two Workings Perished.

BUFFALO, April 16 .- The work of searching the ruins of the works of the American Giucose company for bodies was begun yesterday, and when the workmen were compelled to quit by darkness the remains of four bodies had been found. They were taken to the morgue, where they now are, identification being impossible. The largest portion of charred flesh and boues found was part of a man's trunk, found outside the walls. The man had evidently jumped from a window and been caught by a falling wall and roasted outside the building.
The morgue was crowded all day with tives of the men burned. They made a great outery when the charred remains were brought in, and some of the more demonstrative threw themselves on the blackened pieces of flesh and caressed them. The morgue officials had to use force to get them away from the remains. The exact number of men who were cre-weeping Pollah women, wives and rela-mated cannot yet be definitely stated. It is absolutely certain that twelve men were burned, but there is grave reason to fear that there were a number of others, and it is not improbable that there were twenty-two victims.

FAILED TO OBEY ORDERS

As a Result One Man Was Killed and Many Cars Wrecked.

HAZLETON, Pa., April 16.—A Pennsylvania railroad freight train collided with a Lebigh Valley express train at noon yesterday near Silver Brook, a few miles from here, on the Lehigh Valley railroad, and Patrick Daley, of Milton, Pa., was instantly killed and twelve other passengers and train hands slightly injured. The ac-cident was due to an oversight of the crew of the freight train. At Pottsville the conductor and engineer of the freight consulted the schedules, but looked at those of the Pennsylvania instead of the Lebigh Valley railroad. They thought they found a clear track, and came down the mountain at a high rate of speed, failing to take the siding at Silver Brook, as ordered. The train col-lided with the express with terrific force, and the freight cars were telescoped and crushed into kindling wood. The engines were badly broken and the furnishing of the passenger cars torn out, the passengers being badly shaken up and thrown about. Daley was riding on one of the cars in the freight train and was thrown into a freight car and horribly mangled.

Interesting Coremony at St. Peter's. ROME, April 16.- A most picturesque and interesting ceremony took place in St Peter's church yesterday morning, and was attended by a great number of per-sons from all parts of the world. The ceremony was the beatification of Juan Davilar, the Spanish theologian, who is known as the "Apostle of Andalusia."
The pope prayed before Davilar's altar in the afternoon. Thirty thousand persons were present. His holiness was excerted by twenty cardinals and a large number of Spanish and other priests. At the end of the service his hollness received gifts, presented to him by the promoters of the movement that lead to the beatification. As he was borne from the church he was most enthusiastically cheered.

Captured with a Dangerous Bomb. LONDON, April 16 - Detective Inspector Melville arrested in Farrington road an Italian named Francesco Polti, who is well known as a dangerous, advanced anarchist. He had in his possession when taken into custody a most deadly bomb which was wrapped in brown paper. Polti who is 21 years old, was a great friend of Bourdin, the anarchist who was fatally injured some time since by the premature explosion of a bomb that he was carrying in Greenwich park.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Senator Zebnlon B. Vance, of North Carolina, died Saturday night at his home in this city. Senator Vance was stricken with parelysis some months ago, and since that time had been traveling throughout the in search of health. He returned to Washington at an early hour yesterday apparently feeling well. He suffered a stroke of apoptexy, however, at 11 o'clock in the morning, and was unconscious to the end. He lived at Charlotte, was 64 years old, and was elected to congress as a Democrat twice before the war. He was elected governor of North Carolina in 1802, while serving as a colonel in the Confederate army, and was re-elected in 1864. He was elected to the United States senate in November, 1870, but was refused admission, and resigned his commission in 1872. In 1576 he was elected governor for the third time, and was again chosen to the United States senate, and took his sent in 1879. He was twice re-elected, and his third term of service would have expired in 1507.

A Whist Playlag Teacher Noeded-Noceasily of Cetting Out of Daily Rate-Miss Pollard's Flans for the Puture-Threatening to Edit a Report of the Trial in the interest of Good Merals.

A very intelligent gentlemen, who is at the head of the school system of a neighboring village, when consulted, not long ago, by members of the values Board of Education, in regard to the selection of a teacher to fill a vacaboy is the school, advised that one be appointed who could play a good game of a bist. Naturally the Board were surprised at this novel suggestion, and the principal went on to say that he put it in that form because he wanted to impress on the Board the advisability of selecting a teacher who knew some thing more than teaching and was could interest berself in something outside the round of daily duty. Continuing, he said, that his experience had been that teachers tended offects, prepared only from the most to degenerate into one idea creatures. healthy and agreeable substances, its who thought and talked of nothing many excellent qualities commend it; but their work. Some mesas should be devised to prevent teachers from discussing their daily efforts, daily trials and, too often, daily failures and, therefore, he had advised the addition of a good whist player to the corps, that by the introduc-tion of a new and diverting interest a topic influence might be exerted on the minds of the other teachers.

> Back of this whimsical suggestion to engage a whist playing teacher was a great deal of practical good sense. We are all prope to carry our dally occupations with us wherever we go and to inflict them on any one who will listen to us. Wemen are as bad as men in this respect, for the woman, who pours into seemingly sympathetic ears tales of her wees with servants and of the tribulations of housekeeping, "talks shop" just as certainly as the merchant who prates of trade, the lawyer who tells of his cases or the doctor of his curcs. This threshing over of the old straw of our daily work yields not a single grain of good. Worse still it narrows our mental horizon and deprives us of the advantages that we ought to derive from associstion with our fellows. The best companions any one can have are those that take him farthest away from his ordinary thoughts and interests. They may not be sympathetic. but they give us rest, change and often inspiration.

Madeline Pollard publishes a card in to-day's World, in which she says that she has no intention of "going on the stage or lecture platform or otherwise accentuating the publicity of the line of th which her unfortunate career has cemetery. had in this triel." She is, however, considering propositions from varlous publishers to edit a report of the trial, and although she says she has not brought herself to think this a wise step, the evidently intends to do so for to quote her own words: "I believe myself able in a good sense to point the moral of my misguided life and to awaken good sentiments in the public rather than to keep alive bad sensations."

This is the veriest bosh. Miss Pollard is not enough of a literary alchemist to transform the fith and pastiness of the trial into wholesome reading. There is no moral in her life to "awaken good sentiments."
No publisher would want a report of the trial edited in the direction of decenoy, for the demand for a summary of the case would depend directly upon the amount of fith that could be compressed between its covers. Decent people have already had a surfeit of the case and only those who revel in nastiness would think of buying a book in which the story of the trial was retold. There is no get-ting around the naked fact that if Miss Pollard edits a report of the trial, she will be giving a new proof of the coarseness of her nature by making merchandise of her shame.

REFORMS AT TUXEDO.

The Affairs of the Town to Be Run by the Park People - No Licenses to Saloom and Mend Mouses - Setter Musdy-A Co-operative htere

The Tuxedo Park people who gainmeasies. This is the second death in ed control of the affairs of the town the house within a week, Mrs. Mary of Tuxedo, at this apring's town Auderson, the grandmother of the meeting, propose to institute a number of reforms which will increase the desirability of the Park as a place of residence.

First of all it is proposed to suppress the sciuons and roadside taveros, which it is alleged have been the scenes of many drunken brawls and loud revelries, and which have been a constant temptation to the coachmen and servants of the Park people. Licenses have been granted to these places by former Excise Boards, but it is understood that this year's Board will refuse the applications of the proprietors of these places.

The Park people have also elected one of their number Commissioner of Highways of the town, and it is expected that under his intelligent supervision the nighway fund will be so expended as to show good results in the shape of greatly improved

One of the grievances of notingers at Tuxedo has been the high prices charged for meats and groceries of in erior quality by the local tradesmen and to checkmate this a cooperative company, to be known as the Tuzedo Stores Company, has been organized with a capital of $20,-000, which proposes to supply all cottagers with all household supplies.

The play is highly spoken of by the press of other cities and is said to give Mise Tiffany the most suitable vehicle for the display of her individual talents. It overflows with wit, the climaxes are unusually attractive. This season much vocal music has been made incidental to the play and the company are all excellent singers.

ORANGE VALLEY UNION-

Quarterly Meeting of Christian (Exdeaverers at Otisville

The quarterly meeting of Orange Valley Union, Y. P. S. C. E., will be held at the Presbyterian Church at Otisville, on Friday evening, April 20th, at 7:45 c'clock. The following is the programme:

Sive Jeans," a Play Without a Villain. "Blue Jeans" is one play not marred by the presence of a villain. Its bero has an evil genius to a vil lage lout, apurred to frenzy by a jealous woman, whom he loves. Joseph Arthur, the play's author, has demonstrated in his qualit and really great play that it is possible for a playwright to be sensational and sensible at the same time. " blue Jeans" is one play that will dissipate the letbargy of the most jaded and blase theatre-goor. At the Casino, Baturday, April 21st.

MONDAY, APRIL 16, 1894.

The New York Hereki seer an awful warning is the fact that two United States Senators have died since the talk on the tauff began.

We notice that in many of the counties of the State the committees appointed to take charge of the Woman Suffrage movement are hard at work If anything is being done in this county by the committee appointed at the convention held in Newburgh several weeks ago no hint of it has come to the knowledge of the public Is it possible that the women of Orange county are to be laggards in the battle for the emancipation of their sex?

Mr. A. O. Kittridge, of the Hogan Boiler Company, and publisher of Business, a high class trade journal, has returned from a business trip through the manufacturing districts of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana He visited 479 manufacturing estab lishments, representing all branches of trade, and talked with their proprietors or managers, and in not a single instance did be hear anything but encouraging reports as to present business conditions, while all spoke confidently of the bright outlook for the future Mr Kittindge is a close and experienced observer of the condition of trade and business and all that he saw during his trip tended to confirm the encouraging reports that he received from wanufacturers, and he returns full of hope and cheer and sanguine that the country has emerged from the gloom of financial depression and that even the delay of Congress in dealing with the tariff tractors and coal dealers, of Lookquestion cannot prevent a revival of port, N. Emma Loeffler, a servant employed by Sheriff Bogart, of Bergen county, N. J., is a brave and plucky woman When the Sheriff entered the jul, yes terday morning, he was set upon by three prisoners, who had planned to escape. Two of them got away and the third, a burly mulatto, was doing up the sheriff ie great shape, when Miss Localer, hearing the disturbance, rushed from the kitchen into the juil and, though she is a little woman, weighing not more than 125 pounds, she jamped on the back of the mulatto as he beat over the prostrate form of the Sheriff and, twisting her arms around the big convict's neck, choked him until no had to release his hold on the Sheriff to rid himself of the woman. He hurled her violently across the room and renewed his struggle with the Sheriff. Agein she threw herself on his back and choked him and again she was thrown across the room, only to return the next instant to the attack. Help arrived and the mulatio was overpowered and then the brave young woman went back to her kitch-on and finished cooking breakfast.

Mr. Lexow is having a hard road to travel in his investigation of the New York Police Department. The motive of the investigation was so evidently a desire to manufacture political capital that the committee was discredated from the start, and these who might have furnished points refused its do so. Then there was great crific sity in recurring counsel, for reputable Largers fought shy of the committee. At last W. A-Sütherland, a Republican politician l from Richtster and Jose W. The "Musical Magnets."

The "Musical Magnets" are a quartette of young men from the West, who are stopping in this city for a few weeks, an route to the seashore, where they have an engagement for the summer. The music they furnish is said, by those who have heard it, to be the best ever heard in this city. They play the mandolin, guitar, violic, flute, banjo and other instruments with the skill of masters. They have played at a number of private receptions, but the first chance for the public to hear them will be at the concert given in the First Congregational Church, Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the T. SUDDEN DEATH AT TURNERS.

Harvey Brush, a Well Known Young Parmer, Drops Dead from Heart Die-

Coroner Decker was summoned to Turnera, yesterday, to investigate the sudden death of Harvey Brush, aged twenty-two years, a well known young farmer, who resided near the depot at that place.

Mr. Brush has been a sufferer from heart trouble for several years. Yesterday morning he attended to the otai taew bas ared ent tucks sered the house, where he was attacked with his old trouble. He was standing near a window and in falling, plunged head first into the sash, breaking the glass and alarming the household. When assistance arrived it was found that he was dead. The Coroner was notified, but upon learning the above circumstances decided that an inquest was unnecessary and granted a certificate of death.

Deceased was a well known and popular young man, and his sudden death has cast a gloom over the community.

THE PAVING OF NORTH STRET.

Why Is It No Steps Have Been Taken to Prosecute the Work?

Now that the matter of paving North street and Wickham avenue from the Erie to the O, and W, tracks has been laid on the table, would it not be well for the Common Council to take the necessary steps for the paving of North street from Franklin Square to the Erie tracks? More than six months ago the property holders on this block decided to pave with asphalt blocks, and the Council ordered all house connections made within tuirty days, so that the work could be done as soon as possible; yet it is a fact that the house connections are not all made and not, a single step has been made by the Council towards paving the street.

The Council would make a better record if it prosecuted the work it has laid out to do, instead of spending its time in ordering improvements that are impracticable and are only projected in the interest of a very few p∘ople.

By the way; have the property owners on the block from Franklin Square to the Erie road ever presented a formal petition to the Council? If they have not they should do so this evening, so that there may be no excuse for further delay. Considerable time must necessarily elapse after the filing of a petition before work can be done on the street.

If the street is not to be repaved with asphalt or some other material. then the Electric Railway Company should be required to properly relay the Belgian blocks which were removed to lay its tracks. The street should not be allowed to remain in its present condition.

"AMERICA'S CREATEST MEN AND WOMEM "

A Beautiful and Valuable Publication Offered to the Renders of This Paper at Nominal Cost.

The Danky Angus is thoroughly gratified at being enabled to offer to its readers something obtainable only through this newspaper and something of extraordinary value. It has made such terms that it can secure for them at almost a nominal price a work just being issued, which is one of the most remarkable publieations of the age. It is entitled America's Greatest Men and Women," and its character is well described In its introduction, which is here reproduced:

"The struggle in the field of publication is for somethicg new which shall be at once perceived as of value and of interest. It is believed that this result has been attained in the production 'America's Greatest Men and Women.'

The scenery of the continent has been reproduced in many forms; views of even so recent a creation as the World's Fair of 1893 have been made familiar; we know much of the great people of the past, but where shall we turn to become acquainted with those most prominent at the present time, those who are with us still and whose daily acts are affecting the whole world's progres?

This work contains the stories of the greatest men and women, of this the greatest men and women of this continent now living, and with each story a full page photograph of every man and woman as they as they look to day.

In this work, 'America's Greatest
Men and Women,' there is told the story of those alive to-day, who have become prominent, and it is told what they have attained and how it was done, while the perfect recent photograph tells how each person looks. All prominent facts in each history are given, and, and there is a study of charater, straightforward, simple and withour history and withour history and withour history are given. eimple and without blas of any kind, The work is the story of the very life tne way and the appearance of the men and women who are about us and with us, and who by their leading qualities are directing the course of the continent's life, to day. It is believed that nothing could be more interesting to read, nothing a more fascinating and valuable

This grand work the Daily Argus offers to its readers upon the simple terms described in another column. With all the efforts of newspapers to promote their popularity and lead in circulation by accomplishing something for their patrons, nothing has ever equaled this. It is an opportunity by no means to be neglected.

A FARM BARN BURNED.

The New Barn on the Wilkison Farm Destroyed, Together with Its Con-

The large barn on the Wilkison farm, a short distance west of Monhagen Lake, was totally destroyed by fire, Saturday afternoon, about 4 o'clock.

There were in the building three mowing machines, a horse rake, wagon and farming implements of various kinds, and about twenty tons of hay.

The building was a large one, 50x150 feet, and was almost new, having been built by the late J. A. Wilkison shortly before his death.

Bertholf and Mr. Edwards, the baker, of this city, passed the barn but a few minutes before the fire broke out and there were no signs of fire then. It is believed that the fire is the work of an incendiary, although fire bugs do not usually perform their work in

The building and contents were insured for $1,500 in the German-American Co., through the agency of E. E Conkling.

ON THE TRAIL OF A THIEF.

A Torn Letter Gives a Clue to His Name and Place of Residence.

It will be remembered that a horse, some clothing and money were stolen from the residence of Nathan Mills, \overline{J} r., by the hired man some time ago, and that the horse was recovered in

In the old coat left behind by the thief, when he took Mr. Mills's coat. was a letter torn in pieces, which Mrs. Mills pasted togetaer and from it the name of the thief, which he had never given to the family, and the address of his family in Albany, were given.

The address was given to Constable Charles Faulkner, who has gone to Albany and expects to return with his man.

The Opera Girl,

The opera zirl is the latest window attraction at Lipfeld's clothing store. She is a blonde beauty, dressed in orange colored satin with plush trimmings of the same shade, carries a fan in one hand and a rose in the other. She fans herself with one hand and takes an occasional "snill" of the rose and turns her head from one side to the other and makes eyes at passers by as naturally as does the real live opera girl.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN-

A Black Eye for the Trolley — Thirty Days for "Bony Peterson"-The Trustees and the Electric Road Franchise -Minor Notes.

From our regular correspondent,

-The article in Saturday night's Middletown Times has done more to lessen the chance of the trolley road coming to Goshen in the present century, than anything that has been said or done before.

-We are pleased to see "Chick"

Scott able to be back at his old stand.

-"Bony" Peterson got on one of his periodical "tears," a few weeks ago, and proceeded to the house of another colored person and gave her a beating. A warrant was sworn out but "Bony" got wind of it and skipped out. He returned Saturday and was quickly gobbled by the police, become prominent, and it is told and Judge Sweezy sentenced him to thirty days with the Sheriff for his little recreation.

-The Board of Trustees is very reticent in regard to what action it will take to-night in the matter of the electric road's application for a franchise, but from what your correspondent can draw out of the Trustees, in a round-about way the matter like Rip Van Winkle, will probably be put to sleep for twenty years.

-A traveling museum is located in the Sayer Block. The principal attractions as advertised are the Cliff Dwellers, who were on exhibition at the World's Fair.

Yesterday's bervices at the First Baptist Church.

Elisha's prayer for his servant: 'Lord open his eyes that he may see," was the subject of the morning sermon at the First Baptist Church, yesterday. In the evening, the subject was "Learn first to show piety at home." The attendance at all services was large. Forty-two members attended the eeting of the Junior Union organized a week ago. The meeting of the Senior Union was led by Mr. Charles Cooper. The attendance and interest were very encour-

Work Resumed at the Rider Engine Works, Walden.

From our Walden Correspondent The Rider Engine Works, one of Walden's leading industries, started up, this morning, on full time. The works have been shut down for some time and the resumption of manufacturing is hailed with pleasure not only by the employes who are again assured work on full time, but also by the business men of the village.

George M. VanDuzer, of Warwick, is a student at Rutgers Coilege. He was awakened at 3 o'clock, Saturday morning, and saw a man leaving his room and carrying his clothes. He gave chase but the thief escaped.

Better Yet!

Each new thing exceeds the one before!

The Most Beautiful Work - Given - to-_the Public and that of the Greatest Value.

It is something that those who would live and know the life of to-day must have.

Our Greatest Men and Women

Who are still alive and with us.

HOW THEY LOOK

AND WHAT THEY HAVE ACCOMPLISHED. THE FACES AND THE STORIES OF THOSE WHO ARE NOW AFFECTING THE HISTORY OF THE COUNTRY.

HE struggle is to give something new for the public which will be most interesting and attractive, and yet will be recognized as having a great and prominent value. It is believed that this has again been accomplished. It is done in what is entitled:

"America's Greatest Men and Women."

インン・米イバイト

The scenery of the continent has been produced in many forms, views of even so recent a creation as the World's Fair of 1893 have been made familiar; we know much of the people of the past, but where shall we turn to become acquainted with those most prominent at the present time, those who are WITH US STILL and whose daily acts are affecting the whole world's progress?

THE THING HAS BEEN DONE!

What was impossible in the past is possible now. The enormous improvements made in photography and in all the delicate art of portraiture, the closer relations between the lives of all public characters and the public, and, above all the incentive afforded by recent earnest competition between the newspapers of the country to supply their readers with the most valuable productions of art and literature, have resulted in what is offered to the readers of The Angels.

It is possible to-day to tell the story of a noted person and at the same time to give that person's very features. It is as if the reader were looking into the face of the one described as he learns what that person has accomplished. In this work, "AMERICA'S GREATEST MEN AND WOMEN," there is told the story of those living to-day, who have become prominent, and it is told what they have attained and how it was done, while the perfect recent photograph tells how each person looks. All prominent facts in each history are given, and there is a study of character, straightforward, simple and without bias of any kind.

The work is the story-of the very life, the way and the appearance of the men and women who are about us and with us, and who by their leading qualities are directing the course of the continent's life to-day.

It is believed that nothing could be more interesting to read, nothing more fascinating and valuable. The struggle between the publishers, as between the newspapers, is constantly becoming more carnest and energetic. The result is, that great things have been accomplished, and it is almost a certainty that the greatest thing accomplished up to the present time is the production,

"America's Greatest Men and Women."

'America's Greatest Men and work contains portraits and biographies of the following well-known Americans:

Wm. McKinley.
 Adlai E. Stevenson.

3. Benjamin Harrison

4. David B. Bill. 5. George R. Davis.

6. Wm. D. Howells.

7. Melville W. Faller.

8. John J. Ingalls. 9. Walter Q. Gresham.

10. Julia Ward Howe.

11. Mrs. John A. Logan

THE ARGUS has secured this great work with a monopoly for the territory in which it circulates.

ITS FORM.

Each week's issue is a large work of 16 pages, size 11x18 inches, bound in book shape and containing upon each page a magnificent portrait from a recent photograph. Below each portrait appears a graphic description telling what the person above has done and how he or she has attained prominence in life and has become one of the great persons among us now affecting the destiny of the country. The descriptions given in the history are not merely commonplace and mechanical. They give a study of the work and character of the person. They are as fascinating as they are valuable as data.

WHO CAN SPARE IT?

Think of such a work as this! Will it not be invaluable to any public man? Will it not be invaluable to any one interested in the every-day affairs of the country? Will it not be invaluable in the household, where the children may become familiar with the faces and the stories of those who are making history in their own time? Is there any work more beneficial to man, woman or child, in any class or society- or anywhere within the limits of the American continent?

The Complete Work will Consist of Sixteen Parts,

Each Containing Sixteen Full-Page Portraits,

With Concise but Comprehensive Biographies.

Sixe 11x13 inches, printed in photo-brown, with beautiful tinted border, upon finest heavy enameled paper, and each part enclosed in a handsome cover.

YOU CAN GET THIS WORK ONLY THROUGH THE DAILY ARGUS.

HERE ARE THE TERMS:

In Every Issue of The Argus will appear a numbered coupon. Out this coupon out and bring or forward it, together with Ten Gents, to the Coupon Department of Tun Argus and there will be delivered or mailed to you one number of the series as above. The remaining parts can be obtained as issued, one each work, by the readers of Tue Argus under the same conditions.
